MEDICAL CONSENT

In these days of lawsuits, medical consent forms are a necessity on every outing. The basic idea of the form is that it gives parental authorization for a doctor to treat a minor. It, also, provides information on where the parents and family doctor can be located.

The consent form provides protection for the doctor, the child, and the club director.

1. The doctor - a doctor who would give medical assistance to a child without the knowledge of the parents would take a tremendous risk. If the results are serious or even fatal, the parents may sue. A signed consent form may be enough to persuade a doctor that the parents are unlikely to sue. (Many young people have been given medical aid at a remote hospital or office after the leader produced a consent form. Other times the form has not helped at all.)
2. The child - leaders who take a child on an outing have an obligation to provide the best medical care. Not having a form would severely reduce that chance.
3. The director - if a child is injured and is not able to get proper medical care because the director did not bother to require medical consent forms, that director would certainly be a handy target for a liability suit.

Note:

Medical consent forms may be dated in such a way that they are good for the whole year. This has the obvious advantage of saving a lot of work in collecting new forms for each outing. There are two disadvantages to year-long consent forms. First, a form signed several months ago will not be as impressive to a doctor as one signed yesterday. Secondly, the form won't have current information on the location of the parents. They may be out of town the weekend of the particular outing on which their child is injured. Use your judgment.

ADVENTURER UNIFORM

The uniform makes the organization real and visible. It becomes emblematic and representative of an ideal, a standard. One of the ways to set up a standard and bring the members of an organization up to that standard is through the uniform. It should stimulate loyalty toward that standard by building morale and binding members into closer fellowship. It also appeals to those not already members to join. The uniform becomes a builder of club spirit.
